

Bolton Dental Laboratory Joins Dental Alliance Group

Dental Alliance Group is excited to announce Bolton Dental Laboratory has joined the DAG Network. This recent acquisition combines the expertise of Bolton's team of highly skilled technicians with DAG's impressive track record of success. Headquartered in West Allis, WI, Bolton Dental Laboratory is one of Wisconsin's leading fixed and implant dental laboratories, serving dentists and oral surgeons in the Midwest and surrounding communities. Dedicated to the highest standard of quality and esthetics, Bolton's team has extensive knowledge and expertise in superior restorations.

Dental Alliance Group is a national dental lab network that works to preserve the qualities of individual laboratories, while future-proofing their businesses. Dental Alliance Group is focused on preserving the legacy of Bolton Dental Laboratory. This is done through close collaboration, personality preservation, and employee retention.

After a thorough review of its team, technology, and track record, DAG has determined that Bolton is an ideal laboratory to join the network. This acquisition will allow Bolton Dental Laboratory to offer new products, increase operational capacity, and enhance the performance for their customers and patients. Christopher Pendry, Founder of DAG, comments, "This acquisition exemplifies Bolton's commitment to providing the highest quality materials and expertise to the dental industry. Through the combination of the companies' strengths, DAG and Bolton will continue to service their customers with a wide range of innovative dental solutions. Dental Alliance Group is extremely optimistic about this partnership."

Overall, the acquisition of Bolton Dental Laboratory showcases Dental Alliance Group's continuous efforts to preserve the unique qualities of individual laboratories and provide superior restorations and services to clients.
