

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dental Alliance Group Expands National Platform with Acquisition of American Dental Designs and Global Dentech

September 16, 2025 — Dental Alliance Group (DAG), a leading provider of full-service dental laboratory solutions, today announced the acquisition of American Dental Designs and Global Dentech (collectively, ADD).

This strategic acquisition represents another milestone in DAG's mission to build a best-in-class nationwide dental lab platform designed to deliver consistent quality, operational efficiency, and scalable growth for clinicians across the country.

"This merger brings together complementary strengths that will set a new standard for the dental lab industry," said Ameet Somaiya, Chief Operating Officer of ADD. "By combining our expertise in highly aesthetic cases and personalized service with DAG's operational excellence and comprehensive capabilities, we are positioned to deliver even greater value to our clients."

"We are excited to welcome American Dental Designs and Global Dentech to the Dental Alliance Group family," said Christopher Pendry, Chief Executive Officer of DAG. "This partnership expands our network, strengthens our DSO relationships, and enhances our ability to provide innovative, full-service solutions. United by shared values, DAG and ADD are committed to delivering quality, innovation, and exceptional customer experiences."

The integration of ADD reinforces DAG's commitment to clinical precision, technical innovation, and service excellence. With expanded geographic reach and an experienced team of technicians, DAG continues to invest in infrastructure that supports general practitioners, specialists, and DSOs with predictable outcomes and streamlined workflows.

DAG remains focused on partnering with dental laboratories that share its vision for quality, accountability, and clinical impact. This acquisition reflects DAG's disciplined approach to growth and its dedication to building a future-ready platform that empowers dental professionals nationwide.

About Dental Alliance Group (DAG)

Dental Alliance Group is a leading provider of full-service dental laboratory solutions, dedicated to delivering consistent quality, technical innovation, and exceptional service to clinicians nationwide. Through its growing national platform, DAG supports general practitioners, specialists, and DSOs with scalable solutions that enhance clinical outcomes and streamline workflows.

Media Contact

Christopher Pendry
Chief Executive Officer
Dental Alliance Group